BAD FIRE IN MANILA.

MANILA, Oct. 5.—The extensive plant of the Philippines Produce company was destroyed by fire today, the loss is $200,000.

(By Associated Press.)

SEATTLE, Oct. 5.—Senator Albert Beveridge tonight addressed 7000 people in the armory, which was packed to suffocation. His subject was "A Greater American Navy" in the interests of the people of the Pacific slope, and was handled in a non-partisan manner, which was listened to with the closest attention by the audience and with frequent eruptions of applause. His address in part was as follows:

There are men in both parties who apparently never knew that this republic has a Pacific coast. Some of them seem to think that our only seaboard is on the Atlantic, and most of that confined to New England. But in the senate last session, our fight for a greater navy taught these men that America's Pacific coast is a mighty fact today; and before we are through all the world will know that America's Pacific coast is the greatest fact in America's future.

This republic, with the untold wealth of its resources, the unwasted vigor of its people, the indescribable destiny that lies before it, must build a navy large enough to have as great a fleet permanently stationed in Pacific waters as we had last year on our Atlantic shores. Great Britain has a Channel and Mediterranean squadron, a fleet in the Pacific, another in the Atlantic; yet Great Britain has only a fraction of our wealth and but half the number of our people. Germany is fast building a navy equal to England's; yet Germany has only a window on the sea. France, in actual fighting power, will be ahead of us in a single year; yet the call of the deep is not in the French blood and France does not and never can aspire to naval supremacy. Even Brazil is building twenty-eight modern battleships—enough to shame us in any review of the world's navies. And Japan is working night and day upon a battle fleet which before we know it will make her, in fighting power, the master of the Pacific. I wish every warship of every nation on earth might be docked forever in the shipyards of a universal peace; but since they will not be for a hundred years to come, we, the greatest maritime people on the globe, ought to be the greatest power on its waters.

We want this navy for peace, not war. Helpless men and nations have less peace than men and nations who are prepared.

All nations must be made to see that conflict with us means defeat for them. This can be shown only by a mighty navy. Both our strength and

BRYAN ROASTS TEDDY

ASHEVILLE (N. C.), Oct. 5.—Patriotic men everywhere will agree with me that the third term idea is no more hateful to minds of the American people than that the president of this great nation should undertake to name or dictate his own successor.

Before one of the largest and most demonstrative audiences that has greeted him on his speaking campaign through the south, John Kern, Bryan's running mate on the national Democratic ticket, in these words arraigned the president and leaders of the Republican campaign at a rally of North Carolina Democrats here today.

WAR SCARE AFFECTS THE STOCK MARKET

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Prices of stocks fluctuated wildly today and showed unsettling and strong conflicting forces. On one hand was an acute crisis developed by the eastern war question, on the other the tonic effect of a striking upward movement in Hill railroad stocks. It was noticeable that while prices recovered readily from the opening break caused by the Bulgarian war prospect, there was much more hesitation in following a further recovery over the Saturday level in sympathy with the strength of Hill stock and the market weakened toward the last. Bonds were irregular.
